Dangerous Carp at North Judson.

North Judson News. Down at English lake the owner of one of the finest farms along the Kankakee river is now hearly heartsick at the outlook for the coming season. The high waters this spring have caused the carp to come up stream it such numbers that they have been unable to find food enough in the siver, so they have taken to the land and his particular farmer has been one of the most unfortunate losers. Only a few nights ago they tere down several rods of his fence, got into his young clover and wheat and did great damage to crops; besides they chased and annoyed the cattle, hogs and sheep, so they have done no good this spring. In the morning he went to the chicken coop pretty early and found the carp had sucked all the eggs and crowded the chickens off the nest and were stil sitting there when he arrived.

What Bedford Stone Masons Ask.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BEDFORI, Ind., May 10.-The lockout at the idle stone mills continues unchanged. The Indiana Bedford Company is still at work. This company is paying the scale asked for and has more business ahead than can be handled for some time. It is said the losses of the other mills have already reached an amount far in excess of what the men asked. The men have simply asked a uniform wage scale; that every mill pay the same wages and that the union workmen be recognized and union men only be employed. They have not asked for the instatement of any person. It is hoped by every citizen of Bedford that the trouble will be settled early in the week, as the effect of the lockout is being felt in business circles.

AND WAS TAKEN TO WINCHESTER JAIL FOR SAFE KEEPING.

Wants to Be Tried in Breathitt County, and Is Confident He Will Be Set Free.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 10.-The capture of Curtis Jett, charged with the assassination of J. B. Marcum, in Jackson Monday, was accomplished without bloodshed at 3 o'clock Sunday morning. He is now in the Clark county jail at Winchester.

Bearing a warrant which had been sworn out by Samuel Jett, uncle of the accused, Sheriff McChord and a posse of seven left Winchester at midnight Saturday. Reaching Jackson's ferry, ten miles distant, at 2:30 a. m., they put away their buggies and crossed the Kentucky river to Madison county in canoes. They proceeded on foot to the home of Mrs. A. Haggin, Jett's mother, two miles from the ferry. Six of the posse were stationed around the dwelling. and Sheriff McChord and Deputy Stockley approached the front door and knocked hap in Alexandria Sunday morning which | Jett's mother answered, and after some parley admitted that Curtis was within. They were admitted and found Jett awake, but sitating the fire department to extinguish | still in bed. He shook hands with the sheriff and said that he would give no trouble. Reaching under his pillow, he drew out his pistol and turned it over to his mother to keep. He made no show of resistance, and was landed in jail at Winchester at 6 a. m Jett's stepfather, A. Haggin, charges that when Jett reached his house last night from Jackson he proceeded to draw his pistol on him and ordered him to get out of the neighborhood. Haggin went to Richmond and swore out a warrant, charging Jett with breach of the peace by assault with a pistol.

In the jail to-day Jett was communicative on all matters save the killing of Marcum. "I'll get out of this all right," was married here Saturday, Rev. J. A. Beatty officiating. They left for Joliet at once. the only statement he would make that could be construed as a reference to the charge. He said he wanted to be tried in Breathitt county. He was bitter in denouncing his uncle who had him arrested and said that the score would be evened up when he was at liberty. > To Sheriff McChord he was equally nonommunicative as to the Marcum tragedy. Jett is twenty-eight years of age, athletic in build, with deep-set, keen eyes, and has bushy red hair. That he submitted to arrest was an agreeable surprise to the officers, who feared an encounter. Jett denied that he drove his stepfather from home. He will be arraigned Tuesday and, it is supposed, will be transferred to the Jackson district for trial. The report that B. J. Ewen was shot at Jackson last night is untrue. Ewen was with Marcum when the latter was assassinated last Monday. How the report became current Saturday night that B. J. Ewen was assassinated at Jackson Saturday evening is unexplained. No trains run from Jackson on Sunday by which news could be brought out, and efforts to obtain any satisfactory explanation from any Jackson service by wire were fruitless. However, it is certain that Ewen was not shot Saturday.

SERMON BY PARKHURST.

Case of the Cenvict Compared to that of the Emancipated Negro. ATLANTA, Ga., May 10.-Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, cf New York, to-day delivered the annual convention sermon before the National Conference of Charities and Correction. Dr. Parkhurst compared the case of the conrict to that of the emancipated negro, upon this point saying, in

"The emancipation pushed the bolt for the blacks; it let them out into the sunshine. There was a great deal of heroism in the course of the war, North and South, but there was not much statesmanship the construction of a peace, and one of the radical mistakes made was in supposing that altering the colored man's condition altered the colored man; that letting a wolf out of a cage domesticates the wolf; that substituting the coat and trousers for swaddling clothes makes of an infant a man, and that emancipation not only relieved the slaves of his fetters, but qualified him to be a citizen."

KING OF THE COTTON MARKET SAID TO HAVE MADE $6,000,000.

Backed by Edwin Hawley and the Huntington Millions in His Bull

Campaign, According to Report.

NEW YORK, May 10 .- Smiling broadly, Daniel J. Sully declined yesterday to deny that his recent sensational raid on cotton netted $6,000,000 for him and the man or men behind him. He said he preferred not to $5,500,000 and $6,000,000. Wall street has likewise been indulging in no end of conjecture as to the identity of the persons who were behind the bull leader in his marvelously successful movement.

Rumor has had it for several days that the Standard Oil Company was backing him, but persons who should know whether this is true or false declare that the Standard Oil Company did not contribute one cent of credit to the daring speculator. Many persons have declared from the start that Edwin Hawley, of the Union and Southern Pacific railroads, was behind Mr. Sully, and every one in the financial world knows that Mr. Hawley has the Huntington millions behind him. When it comes to speculating, careful, shrewd, but courageous speculating, Mr. Hawley, it is said, is just the sort of man to inspire and follow out a campaign such as was conducted by Mr. Sully. Frequent conferences were held between Mr. Hawley and Mr. Sully when the sensational raid was reaching its cli-

Mr. Sully becomes silent when asked about the syndicate which backed him, and refuses to hazard any public guess as to the amount of his profit. "Is it true that the syndicate cleaned up $6,000,000?" was asked of him. "I won't deny it," he replied, laughing.

"Is it true that you have been carrying half a million bales for the rise?" "That's about right, I think. Mr. Sully traded in and out about 500,000 bales of cotton. Despite contrary reports it is known that he has closed out his stock and did so when the price was about $10 a bale higher than when he began this campaign in December. He got out when the market aproached 11 cents a pound. price is still advancing, due to the bull movement of Brown of New Orleans. The appearance of General Gomez at the St. Louis dedication exercises as the representative of Cuba shows us what an easy, comfortable and ornamental existence the old bush fighter is now leading. President Palma shows much tact in keeping Gomez in such an amiable frame of mind. The worthy, but because the example is vicious general tells the American people that the and subversive of the well are of the white new Cuban government is "getting along race. We trust this will not be permitted well." He might even have said "very well."

"Good morning, mamma." The man who spoke held a hoe in his hand. But to whom did he speak? There was no other human being in sight. Surely he did not so address the ungainly cow that browsed near.

But it was even so.
For had he not a hoe in his hand?
And had not Edwin Markham said he was brother to the ox?

MRS. P. C. PAULSON'S STORY.

She Causes the Arrest of John Gavin and Complains of Another. Mrs. P. C. Paulson, of 223 North Capitol avenue, complained to the police yesterday that two men, John Gavin and Daniel Buckley, who have been board ig at her house, came home drunk late Sawrday night, and after entering the house broke open the door to her room and attenuated to criminally assault her. She said that one of them struck her in the head and kicked her. Gavin was arrested last evening. He has been employed as general manager of the construction work on the blant of the new gas company, and John R. Pearson went on . his bond in the sum of $1,00. Gavin denies that he attempted to assault Mrs. Paulson, and Mr. Pearson said he could not conceive that he would commit or attempt such a crime. Mr. Pearson said that Gavin is reliable man, respected by his employers and highly trusted.

Buckley has not yet been arrested. Mr. Crawford's Prize.

Roswell W. Field, in Chic go Post. A disquieting dispatch omes from New Haven in effect that George Williamson Crawford, of Birminghan Ala., has captured one of the Wayland Prizes for oratory at Yale University. Now it is not contended that Mr. Crawford is rot a good orator, or that he did not fairly was the prize. The quarrel is not with him, but with the judges who made the decision. Hor Mr. Crawford is a negro, just a plain Alabama negro, and to give a prize to a regro is setting a most dangerous precedent. In short, it may incite other Alabama negroes to deeds of intellectual and orator cal achievement, and may fill their heads with the foolish idea that they, too, may win a prize in scholastic circles. Worse, than this, they may not only think so, they may do so, and that would be a case of legro domination that no true white gen, would tolerate.

Altogether it is plain to the most ordinary intelligence that Mr. Craw ord should have been squelched, not because he was not to happen again.

The consolidation of the Aguilar Free Library makes the circulation of the New York Public Library the largest in the United States, and probably in the world. The home use for the morah of March was 274,590, which is at a rate of considerably more than three millions a year. When the branch system has been completed it is expected that the library will circulate at least five million volume, and probably more.
